

Conversations that matter: Planning for future care needs

Hosted by

What

The COVID-19 pandemic carries particular risk to people living in long-term care homes. This hour long webinar for families will review what it means to talk with the care team about the goals for your loved one's care and why these conversations are essential during this time. We will review things to consider when making care decisions and offer a tool to prompt discussion and document of priorities for care.

When & Where

Wednesday, April 29th from 1:00pm-2:00pm

[Another date to be announced for the following week]

We will connect virtually using Zoom Video & Teleconference
